Interior Design

Enhancing the human experience with thoughtful considerations around the structure and functionality of space.

We believe that every place tells a unique story, which begins from within.

Our progressive approach and proactive communication style proves successful in surpassing our client's expectations. In working hand-in-hand with the Commercial, Residential and Senior Living areas of expertise, as well as our own clients, we develop holistic solutions for the use of space and structure through each phase of the design process – programming, schematic design, design development, construction documentation, and construction administration.

By balancing functionality and spatial design, we are able to create unique design solutions for each project. Our method of collaboration and inclusive design ensures all goals are met from a project's inception.

Our Process

From conception to installation, our user-centric approach ensures your project's program and desired aesthetic are brought to fruition. Our process begins with collaboration among all the project's stakeholders, programming and developing goals that align with the client's vision. In utilizing concept imagery, finish and furniture plans, and color palettes as visual communication tools, we are able to establish the foundation for the design with our clients on a unified track towards the end goal. Our Interior Design team has a process for documentation and procedures to keep organized and moving efficiently, and we strive to create synergy amongst all members of our team for an outcome that will exceed your expectations.

Crafting a sustainable, user-first experience

Innovative and functional design begins through creative, personalized planning and services throughout the phases of the design process.

SKYLINE SOCIAL | Apple Valley, Minnesota

Building on the success of Skyline Social & Games' original Duluth, MN, location, the owner partnered with RDL to expand the entertainment and dining concept to Apple Valley, outside the Twin Cities. The goal was to maintain brand familiarity while elevating the design. Our team refined floor plans for code compliance and functionality, collaborating with the client, contractor, and kitchen design team while navigating municipal permitting. The new location introduces an industrial aesthetic featuring tumbled brick, reclaimed barnwood, and vintage tin. Natural maple inspired by bowling lanes accents custom banquettes, booths, and countertops, while three-dimensional cork tiles and floating felt acoustical clouds provide sound absorption and distinctive visual interest.

MEADOW VALLEY | Traverse City, Michigan

As a dramatic redevelopment of a former quarry into an upscale, senior living community – RDL's thoughtful design approach allows all residents access to active wellness experiences, appropriate to their lifestyle and needs. Interior finishes were selected with a coastal theme, implementing a tonal blue water inspired color palette. Subtle patterns in several coordinating custom carpet designs pair seamlessly with stained and painted wood millwork, and ceiling accents. High impact design elements are incorporated throughout the architecture, including fireplaces and built-in casework within the common areas.

ARCADIA | Shaker Heights, Ohio

Arcadia focused on creating a sophisticated, luxury mixed-use environment that seamlessly blends the historic character of Shaker Heights with contemporary elegance. Through close collaboration between interior designers and architects, the design emphasizes intricate custom millwork, refined architectural detailing, and a thoughtful balance of traditional and modern elements. Rich jewel-toned palettes, luxurious textiles, decorative lighting, sculptural metal screens, and custom botanical murals introduce warmth, depth, and visual interest throughout the spaces. The result is a timeless yet distinctive interior experience that celebrates the neighborhood's architectural heritage while embracing a modern, elevated lifestyle.

Balancing functionality and spatial design to create unique design solutions for each project.

Where creative solutions meet innovative design.

We believe that thoughtful, thorough and organized design can bring a client's vision to life. Our interior design team is committed to helping our clients create environments that center around their aesthetic and budget, all while taking thoughtful considerations around the use of space, color, lighting and texture. We value everyone's contribution and encourage stakeholder involvement to ensure that the environments we design make a lasting impression for years to come.
